Dear Parents and Children,

We, as a nation, are about to complete a month of lockdown and we continue to be vigilant, not taking anything for granted. The world at large is still grappling with the aftermath of the effects of the spread of this virus, and is still to get a grip over the situation. Being in a constant state of flux, we need to quickly adapt to the changing environment and living conditions.

Each one of us has played his or her part in strictly adhering to the demand put on us by our ever vigilant government and authorities. As a result we have seen the positive impact on reducing the spread of the COVID virus due to timely actions, by way of lockdown and other stricter measures taken by the government.

Children, we are all in for a long haul and I hope that each one of you is keeping your spirits up. It is also an opportunity to spend more time with your family and actively engage in constructive work and learning. It is also an opportune time to interact with each other in group activities and fun projects. These are difficult times for all of us, times like none before. We are all staying apart for everyone's safety and never has staying at home within your four walls meant keeping others safe as well. It's difficult to comprehend and each one is struggling to cope with the new found situation that each one is in. Please do ensure that you do not move out of your homes and always obey your parents.

I also request you to spare a thought and more for the countless migrants and daily wagers who have lost their earnings and face a very uncertain future. Comparatively, we can count ourselves amongst the privileged lot, despite these uncertain times. Please do contribute in whatever way you can to reduce the pain of the lesser privileged lot amongst us. There are very many ways of doing your bit and please do not let this opportunity pass by.

We also realise that organizations have introduced salary cuts and businesses have been adversely affected. All this has put a strain on the financial resources and planning, for many people.

To mitigate the situation, the School fees can now be paid on a monthly basis instead of the quarterly fees. The tuition fees remain at the same rates for each of the classes as it was in the last academic year. We also confirm that you are only required to pay the tuition fees from April 2020 onwards until further notice.

For your convenience, the fee structure for Classes I to XII is given below in a table. Please remit the fees at the earliest possible and communicate the details to the School office through email: accounts@stpauls-delhi.com
